ARTICLE: INFLUENCE OF NSS ON ME

When you step in to a new environment all you need is someone to support you and someone to stay by your side. When I first joined my college it was similar. Everything felt new and strange. Still remember holding the NSS enrolment form that somehow ended up in my hand, wondering if I'm just getting into more trouble. But it has been one of my best decisions as now I have a bundle of memories and an army of friends who have stood by me. I learnt that NSS was not just cleaning roads and villages but also a development as a better human respecting and serving others without prejudice. Thank you NSS and JSSPW for giving us this platform.

I was always a very nervous and shy person with little to no confidence when I joined this college. But then I joined NSS as all my friends were joining. I had no idea what NSS was, but as I started attending it every week I realized the changes within me. I started making new friends and even started participating in events. And today I am working in an MNC as a team leader with confidence. Thank you NSS and JSSPW.

ARTICLE: EVOLUTION OF A SEED

The seed was sown with the help and assistance of few great souls and this seed of NSS started its journey in the campus of JSS Polytechnic for women in the year of 1999. It wasn't a simple journey, though the start was simple its goal wasn't. With a mission as strong and as mighty as the rock, which was to prepare a group of young girls into an army of strong independent women with knowledge, understanding, compassion, strength and above all the willingness to serve was never an easy task.

But the seed that was sown was never ready to give up and over years with the help of many amazing and inspiring people who watered and nourished, the seed grew into a strong and steady tree called NSS with a mighty 150 students in it.

As each day and each year passed the tree added many more fruits of achievements to it such as special prize from Sukturathra Mahotsava committee on 29th January, 2017 for cashless transaction campaign. Regular blood donation camps, visits to old age homes, orphanage and even stunts to provide awareness and to lend them a helping hand to clean their surroundings. Conducting awareness rally, performing akits, conducting events for kids has become a norm.

A tree is known for its ability to withstand mighty winds and yet provide shade and shelter and that's exactly how NSS in JSSPW has been. We have been providing platform for our girls to explore their creativity and to help them develop leadership skills by conducting camps along with preparing them to face the society by conducting regular talks and workshops on various issues like Swachhta, self-defense, water conservation, and education for girls, effects of demonetization, internet banking and many more.

The deeper the roots the stronger the tree which is why we have never given up on our traditions and values that must guide us. We have always insisted on teachings our students the importance of being humble and to serve selflessly by taking them to regular village visits to spend time with the villagers. This has helped them to socialize and to respect every human without the barriers of caste, creed and religion. It has also helped them to understand the joy of serving and giving to the needy is incomparable.

Like a tree that will always remain an integral part of our childhood memories, like a tree that gave us the sweetest fruits, like a tree that gave the best shade on a sunny bright afternoon NSS of JSSPW has and will remain to create many more memories, provide many more sweet fruits and will always have the best shade for everyone to rest under for many more years to come, because a seed that's sown with such tender care, a plant that's grown with such experiences and a tree that's so deep rooted will never sway nor will it fall.
